

Mark A McCallum B.A.Hons Fine Art

Mark graduated with an honours degree in Fine Art from St Johns University York in 1988, where he specialised in Oil painting. In 2004 he moved to the Highlands of Scotland with his wife and family, where he started painting full time and teaching Art classes.

From 2005-2016 Mark was based in a studio in Fort Augustus on the edge of Loch Ness. His paintings capture the colours of the beautiful wild Highlands. Travelling the west coast of Scotland, Highlands and Islands, Marks work reflects the ever changing mood of the northern landscape.

In 2016 he settled in a converted 16th century Water Mill in Kirkmichael, on the edge of the Cairngorms National Park, where he now pursues his Art, incorporating Scottish wildlife in his colourful work. Having exhibited his work at various venues throughout the Highlands, a diverse mixture of his work can be seen at the Kirkmichael Hotel Art Gallery.

This year ,2018 he is constructing his Artist studio at the Old Watermill, and the launch of his new business Cairngorm Gifts, making art work affordable through signed prints. Check out the website at www.cairngormgifts.com.
